Wine Reviews*

"This is a fragrant, elegant Pinot with layers of interesting aromas like tangy black cherry, orange rind, herbal tonic, floral and savory notes with a streak of graphite. It's light to medium bodied, with savory, grainy-textured tannins that support the tangy fruit and earthy flavors."

"There's a very fresh, fleshy and plush, red and dark-cherry core here that offers a rich array of succulent, dense and approachable tannins. Drink now."

"This four year old North Canterbury Pinot is just entering a delicious drinking window, with notes of savoury spice, subtle oak and earthy complexity. The grapes were hand-picked, hand-sorted and fermented prior to ageing in 45% new French oak barrels toasted at varying levels for complexity. It's made from one vineyard with 26 Pinot Noir blocks that are kept separate during fermentation."

"Silky, delicate, earthy and dry with notes of pomegranate, cherry, brown mushroom and prosciutto."

"Lighter ruby-red with slight purple hues. Initially shy on the nose, but the intensity and depth builds to show concentrated dark-red berry fruit with hints of plum and licorice, with dark herbs. Rich and plush on the palate, this has fine-textured tannins lending the palate elegance of style. This has a strong core with a little alcoholic power. This is the best Mt. Beautiful wine I have seen to date."
