Wine Spectator

"Beautifully pure and enticing, it's light but complex, dry and intense, and offers huge amounts of character with a lovely balanced length. Riesling with a soprano line of lemon-like acidity."

Drink 2018-2023 Alc 11%.

Christina Pickard,
Wine Enthusiast

"The North Canterbury region, 70 miles north of Christchurch, excels at a range of cool climate varietals, and Riesling is one of them. This one has 13 grams of residual sugar, which is enough to detect, but mainly contributes a slippery texture and balances the acidity. On the nose, there are notes of lemon, lime, white pepper, lavender and other wildflower blossoms. The palate finishes on a tasty honeysuckle note. A delicate and varietally expressive drop from an underrated region that should be drunk now or within the next few years."

Wine Reviews

"Bright pale straw-yellow colour with slight green hues, lighter on the rim. The nose is very soft and refined in presentation with delicate aromas of lime fruit, white florals, and suggestions of honeysuckle and minerals. This has delicacy and detail. Medium-dry to taste and medium-bodied, the palate is elegant and restrained in expression with light and delicate notes of white florals, citrus fruit, herbs and mineral nuances."
